Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 sets forth a "fired ceramic" however line 11 includes the contradictory limitation "after firing".

Claim 2, terminology "raw density" is not clear as to what density is being claimed.

Claims 9-19 lack an active process step which clearly defines the claimed invention. Terminology such as "forming a molded body of" and "firing at a temperature greater than 1400°C to form a secondary phase comprising dicalciumferrite" will overcome this rejection.

Claims 8-12, "the MgO containing component" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Use claims are not a statutory class of invention.

Specification

4. The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: The specification lacks support of the formation of dicalciumferrite. This limitation appears to have been added in an amendment in the PCT application and may be considered new matter and therefor applicants may lose there priority.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 and 103

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Fukatsu et al (3,523,804).

See Table 2, composition s8 and s12; Table 5, compositions S1-1 and S1-3 which fall squarely within the claimed ranges. The particle size is less than 48 mesh (297 microns) and the specific gravities are greater than 3.40 (tables 5 and 6). The magnesia clinker is up to 96% MgO (column 4, lines 44-49).

It is well settled that when a claimed composition appears to be substantially the same as a composition disclosed in the prior art, the burden is properly upon the applicant to prove by way of tangible evidence that the prior art composition does not necessarily possess characteristics attributed to the CLAIMED composition. 7. Claims 9-19 are allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action. The prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest the formation of dicalciumferrite.
